Dear Members of Plymouth Church,

The Pulpit Committee wanted to provide you with a brief update in the search for our new Senior Minister. Following our commissioning at Church on January 12th we have met almost bi-monthly. Nayiri Karjian, General Minister of the Living Water Association, met with us and gave us an orientation into the search process. In mid-February we met with Lee Makela, a member of the Transition Team who presented us with the findings of the “Sunday Brunch” conversations which took place in January and early February. We are very grateful for your dialogue and discussion expressed at these meetings.

Following Lee’s presentation, we extrapolated the data provided by the Transition Team to help us in creating the official Plymouth profile to be submitted to the Living Water Association. In an effort to keep this process moving forward, due to the Coronavirus (Covid-19) social distancing, we have been meeting remotely since mid-March and are happy to report that we have finished the profile and it is being submitted. This has been a very large task which we are all relieved to have successfully completed. Once the profile is reviewed and officially received, we will let you know next steps. We are extremely thankful for your continued prayers and support.

Sincerely,

The Pulpit Committee
